Plan for Storyline.

Plot Summary

The land's flowers/nature is dying, so the moon girl is sent down only to help restore the land. Upon descending, she meets the land boy. However she cannot touch a human or she will turn to moondust.

Backgrounds Needed

↳ Forest (Green)

↳ Dying Forest

↳ Starry Night ^_^

1. Land boy is out in the woods where he sees a meteor land.
2. It lands on the other side of the grey/dying forest.
3. The moon girl graces through the forest, blooming flowers as she walks, filling it with colour.
4. The two meet in the middle, both hesitant.
5. Land boy tries to reach out to her, but she pulls back.
6. Over time, the land is restored and the 'friendship' between the two blossoms as well.
7. Her job is done, so the moon girl must return home. On a starry night, the two reach out to each other without touching before she disappears for good, leaving behind a land filled with life in return for hers.

SUGGESTION:

- Flowers blossom alongside their 'relationship' growth.
